Lithium Batteries Rules – Waste/Recycling/Disposal

Tuesday 19th July 2022, 13:00 – 14:30

This webinar will help you gain a better understanding on the mysteries surrounding the disposal and recycling of lithium batteries in the UK.

What do BSC and DTS mean?

Where do we send batteries for recycling and how are they required to be packaged to get there safely?

As trainers and DGSA's that deal with the international transporting of Lithium Batteries on a regular basis; we often get asked to support businesses with the safe disposal of batteries. So, what advice can we give to manufacturers and distributors of lithium batteries and battery related products? What schemes are out there and what are their responsibilities?

The webinar is aimed at anyone with an interest in Lithium Batteries.

Our Presenter

We are delighted to have as our presenter:

Sam Stretton, Director Logicom Hub Limited

We are young to the dangerous goods family. Since 2018, Logicom Hub Ltd have provided consultancy and interactive training to customers. We were the first organisation to have CAA approved lithium batteries by Air e-learning. This has now expanded to other smaller aspects of the transport of dangerous goods process for all modes of transport, which are selling worldwide.

Sam Stretton has worked for over twenty-five years in the logistics industry and has a background in managing training design, implementation, and delivery teams.

Working for a global freight company for most of her years she was able to build a clear understanding of supply chain operations for multiple industries from retail through to aviation and oil and gas. Having serviced customers, built connections across multiple industries, and negotiated vendor rates and space
