PRESS RELEASE

For Immediate Release [26 January 2016]

BADGP 6th Annual General Meeting & Industry Lectures

The British Association of Dangerous Goods Professionals – BADGP – have just announced the date of their 6th Annual General Meeting and Industry Lectures: 17th March 2016 at Sedgebrook Hall Hotel, Chapel Brampton, Northampton, NN6 8BD.

The event will commence at 09:00 (Registration) and finish at 15:45 and will include refreshments and lunch.

Industry Lectures Open To Everyone

As well as the short AGM (for BADGP Members only) we will also be presenting our 2016 Industry Lectures. This year's Lectures will focus on legislation changes affecting dangerous goods (multi-modal) and we will also include a lecture on a specific topic of interest to attendees. We will be sending out more information on the details of the Lectures shortly. Last years' lectures were extremely well received by the attendees.

Exhibition

We are also inviting a number of organisations to exhibit their products and services during the day – more details to follow.

AGM Free To Members

As usual, our AGM & Lectures are free of charge to BADGP Members.

Special Offer To Non-Members

Non-members can attend the AGM & Industry Lectures for a fee of £60.00. Within this fee we also include BADGP Membership until the end of the subscription year: 31 December 2016.
